

Confidence, Capacity and your Competitive Edge

The Leader's Guide to Peak Performance... in Everything

When work demands are high, and the schedule is full, it's far too easy to let lack of time and energy guide how you take care of yourself. It seems there's always something more important to do, but when health gets pushed aside, it has a direct and often negative impact on energy, productivity, and positivity. Not to mention what it does for wellness and quality of life.

Research shows that the very health practices we push aside in the name of work progress, are the keys to better leadership and peak performance. In fact, health delivers the ultimate competitive edge for business success at every level of your organization. Boost confidence, capacity and your competitive edge with simple methods that make a big impact.

In this session, you will:

- Be reminded of the many brain and body benefits of exercise, eating right, sleep, and stress management, and learn why health provides the ultimate competitive edge in today's workforce.
- Assess your current health-practices; what's going well, what's missing, and what you shouldn't be without.
- Identify effective, time-efficient ways to optimize your health, and that of your teams, so you show up every day mentally, physically and emotionally dialed-in.

And consider this: If you're already knocking it out of the park with career success, imagine how much more capable you'll be when you prioritize health as a non-negotiable part of your business plan.

* Available as a 30 to 90-minute keynote or half and full-day workshops
